JABRA AND GOOGLE MEET

Empowering remote learning through virtual collaboration

The right technology is instrumental

As teachers around the world adapt to the challenges of keeping their students engaged through a computer screen, the right technology is instrumental in ensuring a good remote learning experience for everyone. Jabra products that work with Google Meet provide an outstanding professional-grade collaboration experience, so teachers and students get the best experience on the platform. Support your teachers with the right technology and help everyone get more from online lessons by ensuring the devices they're using stay off their list of distractions.

Enabling accessible remote learning

Our range of professional video and audio solutions enhance teaching and increase accessibility for everyone, ensuring everyone can participate equally, and remain focused and engaged. Each device delivers a rich, seamless audio and video experience for both teachers and students.

Unique video technology

Jabra PanaCast is a professional video conferencing camera that's completely unique in the market – delivering a full 180° view of the classroom. PanaCast helps teachers to create a truly collaborative classroom from anywhere.

World-leading audio capabilities

High-quality audio is essential for a great remote learning experience, while at the same time improving the closed captioning functionality for those who need it.

Jabra Speak 750 is a premium, portable speakerphone that delivers outstanding professional-grade call quality, and is certified for Google Meet*.

Jabra Evolve is a range of professional-grade headsets that deliver world-leading call performance and are compatible with Google Meet.

All of these outstanding audio solutions allow teachers to communicate quickly and easily with their class, and can offer a high quality experience when using Google Meet.

* For use with a personal laptop or computer. Not part of Google Meet Hardware.

OUTSTANDING BENEFITS

Plug-and-play & perfectly portable

All of these devices work right out of the box, for instant collaboration anywhere – making them perfect for even the least tech-savvy. And for maximum flexibility, they're also extremely portable. Just unplug, move, plug in, and go.

Peace of mind

You can use the Jabra PanaCast, Evolve and Speak Series with the Google Meet platform, giving you maximum peace of mind that the deployed devices will enhance the meeting experience.

Together, Jabra and Google Meet help to deliver an outstanding learning experience for everyone.
